Steve will once again attempt to break the bad dating habits of eight women who have time and time again been unlucky in love.

Through his no-nonsense technique, Steve and his mother Master Matchmaker JoAnn Ward, will try to help these women understand what they are doing wrong and give them insight to better understand the male perspective on dating.

If you or someone you know would be a great guy to go out with these ladies, then we want to meet you too. We are looking for men of all types to go on dates with a diverse group of women.

Men must be charming, adventurous and willing to travel to Los Angeles to go on dates.
